WAILUKU PLANTATION TO BE ENLARGED TO THAT CAPAC-ITY WITHIN TWO YEARS.

WAIHEE DITCH THE FACTOR

New Lands to Be Cultivated Beyond Waikapu. H. C. & S.
Co., and Wailuku Sugar Company Have Buried The Hatchet.

where less than eight thousand tons per year now grow is the promise of the Wailuku Sugar Co., and as the land is now available and the water will be available upon the completion of the big Waihee ditch, there is no doubt but that the Company will make good their promise within the next few years.

The Wailuku Sugar Plantation, formerly consisting of the separate plantation, the Waikapu, the Wailuku and the Waihee, was many years ago consolidated and incorporated with a capitalization of $700,000 and later placed under the management of C. B. Wells, since which time it has proved a veritable gold mine to its stockholders, paying an annual percentage of dividends which would sound fabulous to the average mainland capitalist.

Nature has perhaps done more for the Wailuku Sugar Plantation than for any other plantation on the Islands. The soil is rich and comparatively level, with a gentle slope to the sea. Four rushing mountain streams furnish a constant supply of water not only to irrigate the cane but also to flume a large part of it from the fields where it grows to the mill.

The proposition of increasing the capital stock and of building a new mill have been under serious consideration by the directors of the Company for the past year or so, and at a meeting held in Honolulu on November 11, both steps were decided upon by the management. The capital stock has been increased to $1,- 500,000, so that $800,000 worth of new stock is to be issued. Even with this increase in the capital stock the shares will undoubtedly command a premium, so that presumably the present stockholders will take up all the new stock, leaving none for outside investors. A new mill is to be erected probably on or near the site of the present mill, as soon as this year's crop is ground, and the new mill will probably be completed by December 1, 1905.

An immense canal or ditch, under the supervision of James T. Taylor, C. E., is being surveyed from Waihee which will extend to a large area of land between Waikapu and Malae Bay, thus largely increasing the tillable area of the Plantation. It is estimated that it will take about two years to complete this ditch, and when finished, the Wailuku Sugar Plantation may safely be figured as a 15,000 ton proposition.

To those who desire the best interests of all concerned it will be gratifying to learn that the unfortunate differences between the Wailuku Sugar Co. and the H. C. & S.

Co. are being adjusted upon terms highly advantageous to both contracting parties.

Within the next few years the Wailuku Sugar Co. will more than double its present production, and with so little increase in expense that the resultive value of the stock newly issued should fall but little below the present value of the old stock.

At the meeting last Friday the old officers were re-elected, viz: M. P.
Robinson, president; W. F. Aller, vice president; Geo. H. Robertson, treasurer; E. F. Bishop, secretary; T. R. Robinson, auditor; Chas. M.
Cooke, director.

It is understood that Operator Kinney will soon take a business position at Kahului; and Mrs. Kinney will have charge of the Club House at that place. Operator Ralston from Lanai will probably succeed Mr. Kinney at the Lahaina wireless office.

Prince Cupid was one of the visitors at the luau on Saturday. In the evening Mr. Krese entertained a number of guests at a dancing party at the Beach House.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Kinney left for Kahului on Wednesday. Immediately after his resignation, Operator Kinney received a very complimentary letter from the Wireless Company in Honolulu. His work has always given entire satisfaction to the Company and its patrons. He has also received the thanks of the Republican leaders, for his faithful and unprecedented efforts on the night after election. He remained on duty until 3:45 on the following morning. Prominent business men in Honolulu, as well as on the islands of Maui and Hawaii, regret the retirement of Operator Kinney.

Mr. Ralston took charge of Lahai-na Wireless office on Tuesday.

More About Maui Schools.

A communication has been received by the News, concerning our schools, with the request that it be published.
Although "J. V.'s" letter to the Bulletin was published in last week's issue, with brief comment, still the question of the proper education of our children is of so much importance that a publication of the subjoined letter on the same subject will perhaps tend to call forth the views of other teachers which may tend to throw more light upon the obstacles in the way of securing good results in our school work. In this connection, the News invites the teachers of Maui and all others interested in the education of our children to give expression to their views on this important subject both pro and con the "Five Step Method," and on all cognate matters. All such communications, which are written in a fair and temperate spirit, with the obvious intention of improving our school system will gladly be given space in the News.

The communication referred to above is as follows:

Editor MAUI NEWS:—

The News recently published some criticisms of the method used in our public schools and the results which only too evidently follow from these methods. The editor's judgment has been vindicated, and the justice of his criticism proven, by a letter published a short time ago in the Bulletin by "J. V.", a well known young Portuguese teacher of Maui.

"J. V." has been educated (?) in our schools presumably under the methods which he advocates. We understand that he is also a "graduate" of the Normal School, in which the notable "Five Step Method" has been vigorously exploited. He evidently considers himself a fair and finished product of a most excellent educational system. His letter was intended to uphold both the present system of education and the "Five Step Method." Before mailing his letter to the Bulletin, however, he should have had it corrected by some one who had at least a speaking acquaintance with the English language. Having neglected this very necessary precaution, his effort, which was to have put a quietus upon the presumptuous editor, proves at once the writer's ignorance and the truth of the editor's criticisms. If anything else were needed to show the inefficiency of our present educational methods, "J. V.'s" letter abundantly supplies the deficiency. It is not necessary to be a teacher in order to notice that "J. V." is, to quote his own words, "vastly ignorant of the subject he has written a subject which he, too, has no conception."

Consider a moment this delectable gem of the "I been go" variety of English:—"Our young men of today with the advantages offered in our excellent school system are certainly better prepared when he graduates than the youth fifteen years ago." Also the following: "Ambitious young men today seek a higher education than that offered in the common schools, and carefully prepare for their future work, while his schoolmates without an ambition or circumstances may not permit, are quite satisfied with their common school education, and therefore cannot compete with his class."

What can we think of a system which not only produces such murderers of our language, but puts them in charge of important schools?
"J. V." admits that the education offered in the common schools is "inferior," and his letter proves it. If the "Five Step Method" that has conducted to this inferiority is "based on educational principles," then by all means let us get away from such "principles" and back to common sense.

Yours for education,
A MAUI TEACHER.

has renounced Catholicism. The act has caused a sensation.

Miss Mary Caldwell founded the Catholic University of America in 1884 by a gift of $300,000 for a superior institution of ecclesiastical learning. The gift was accepted in same year by the bishop of the Roman Catholic church and it was decided to locate the school at Washington, D. C. Around the divinity school for which Miss Caldwell's gift was primarily intended were to be grouped other schools, thus forming a great university. At present the plans are but partly realized, only the graduate schools being open but the work is developing rapidly and has been assisted by further generous gifts from Miss Caldwell and her sister as well as by others. Cardinal Gibbons as Archbishop of Baltimore is chancellor. The university was supposed to be badly involved in the failure of Thomas E. Waggaman; its financial agent, but latter developments indicate that it will not incur any loss.

Mukden, Nov. 15.—The Russians
